What to do if you are visually impaired or blind?

blista is the place for you!

Federal Competence Centre for people with blindness and visual impairment

What to do if you are visually impaired or blind?

Our diverse offerings are suitable for both young and old. Speak with us!

The blista is a nationwide competence centre for people with blindness and visual impairment as well as an open and lively educational and meeting place for young and old. The blista stands for a highly qualified organisation, which offers support based on individual requirements, potential and interests of the individual.

Our offers are aimed at children and young people, as well as professional workers, seniors, families and friends. In addition, we also advise (mainstream) schools and politics, employers and municipalities: We are continually breaking down barriers in a visually oriented world.

School, education and profession

“Gymnasium” (secondary school) and vocational training at the Carl-Strehl-Schule, recognized IT-training, comprehensive support for integration into the labour market and preparation/support for the everyday challenges of profession and career.

Materials for the classes

Mathematics, science, geography, music, art ... - we facilitate blind and visually impaired pupils, their parents and teachers with counselling, guidance and materials for classes, which provides an equal opportunity to learn.

Literature to browse

From specialist literature to the touch-picture book, from Harry Potter to audio magazines for young and old: More than 10,000 braille and more than 40,000 audio books are available to lend. The German Blind Library (DBB) has a catalogue of over 50,000 items of various media available to listen to and read free of charge.

Accessibility for ALL

For administrations, municipalities, museums and companies, we offer comprehensive services for tactile designs, tactile models, accessibility and braille.
